

UNM Online Course Information Form (CIF)

Download this form to complete it as a writable PDF.

Students need course details to plan schedules and prepare for your course. Provide information beyond what is in the LoboWeb/Banner registration system and University Catalog. Students are interested in enticing course descriptions. For those still deciding their schedule, descriptions serve as a way to promote your course.

Students also want to know your expectations and course requirements. For example, indicate whether your online course has resource fees, place-based meetings, web conference meetings, or proctoring requirements.

Once submitted, your CIF is processed and published to the Schedule of Online Courses. Feel free to connect to UNM Online by emailing cif@unm.edu.

We, and the online students of UNM, appreciate all you do.

If you prefer students to be supervised while taking an exam, consider proctoring. Proctoring arrangements are made between you and your students, with facilities available in New Mexico and nationally. UNM does not endorse unaffiliated proctoring locations. For place-based proctoring, visit the UNM Online Proctoring Resources page. Most proctoring offices charge a fee. Virtual proctoring is offered through Proctorio. Contact UNM Learn Support, (learn@unm.edu) or visit the UNM Learn Virtual Proctoring page. Students will incur a fee for this service.
